New York, Sept. 19, 1877.

Br. Tutt: Dear Sir—During this year I treatduine hundred cases of lung diseases. In the lower wards of the city the cases were of a very severe type. It was there my attention was called to Tutt's Expecterant, and I confess my surprise at its wonderful power. During a practice of twenty years I have never known a medeffects. It instantly subdued the most violen its of coughing and invariably cured the disease in a few days. I cheerfully endorse it as the best lung medicine I ever used IMPORTANT QUESTIONS. Bealer, have you caught a cold? Are you made to raise the phlogm? Have you an irristion in the throat? A sense of oppression on the lungs, with short breath? Do you have a stof coughing on lying down? A sharp pain now and then in a region of the heart, shoulders and back? IF SO, OUR ADVICE IS to take at once a dose of Tutt's Expectorant; you will spen be able to raise the phlogm. In an hour soon be able to raise the phlegm. In an hour repeat the Expectorant, place a hot iron to the feet take two of Tatt's Pills. You will soon fall intra pleasant aloep and wake up in the morning cough gone, lungs working freely; easy breathing and the bowels moving in a natural manner. To prevent a return of those symptoms use the Expectorant several days.

THE GALLOWS AS A PULPIT. - Dr. Sunderand, in the course of a sermon spoke as follows: "But what I do most strongly object to is the making a spectacle, a show and parade of the death of crimicals. If, by faith in Christ, they do tarely escape with their own souls at last, let it not be blezoned atroad to the whole werld, as though they were pre-emicent saints of God, just about ripe to be exnonized; whereas they are more firebrards placked from the burning. if saved at all. The gallows of a man guilty of aurder is not the most impressive pulpit from which to declare his sainthood. If Chritian ministers would take the right stand on this sulject, and refuse to parade in such speciacles, the evil which flows from them would be prevented. I do not, by this, nean to dery the consolations of religion, or the offices of the cleray, to condemned men about to die. But I say that, at the best, the religion of the one so situated is not a thing to be talked of and paraded before the world as if the scaffold were always the sprest and sifest way to Haven. But that there is a wonderful power in the Gospel to support a man under sentence of death, if he can avail himself of it, there can be no manner of doubt. The thief on the cross, who then and there, for the first time, knew and felt that He who hong beside him was the very and only Christ, the Saviour of the world. was answered in the prayer of his expiring breath. So that none need despair, even the vilest of mer. Tre other thiel is represented as dying in sullen gloom, so that none need presume on the mercy of Heaven and think them selves safe in their continued impenitence. The great fact is that human nature needs some one to lean upon, to lock up to, to confide in whenever it is in a crisis or under a pressure from the ciroumstances of life. When death arrives. when the soud must go forth in a strange cona thing more than an carthly sympathy, and something more than a creature strength ou which to repess our weariness of beard. SHOT FOR SINGING PINAFORE .- A few evenings ago, while two young men were visiting a lady friend on Church Hill, one of them began to sing: "Farewell, my own, light of my life, farewell," a selection from Pinafore. His friend arose from his seat and went into an adjoining room, and soon returned with a small rifls in his hands, and remarking in a jocular manner, The penalty for singing Pinsfore is death to the offender," reised the weapon (unloaded as

try and when the appreheusion of solema, un usual) to his shoulder and pulled the trigger. The piece exploded with a sharp crack, and the Pinafore vocalist was heard to exclaim, "I am This caused great consternation in the shot!" room. An examination was made, and it was discovered that the young man had a slight flash wound in his right leg just above the knee. But for the heavy side seam in the gentleman's pants, which caused the ball to glance, the would would have been serious and might have resulted in the loss of the limb .- Rich. State. German-"Vell, Mr. L-, how much do you charge for Lurying my vite?" Preacher—"On, I do not enarge anything for attending funerals."
